Domestic Air Cargo Transport Industry (2019 Report)

Key Findings

- The freight rates in the air cargo transport were the highest (7 to 10 times higher) among all other modes of transport.
- There was an increase in the transport demand in some air routes due to the Chinese New Year Festival and peak travel season.
- Seasonal conditions were putting more demand on flight services due to the poor road conditions in rainy season.
- Some airlines in the industry have launched joint operation to bolster resources and extend their transport network.
- After four airlines, returned their air operator's certificates (AOC), leaving only six domestic airlines flying Myanmar aviation sector.
- The three airports of Heho in Shan State, Mawlamyine in Mon State and Kawthaung in Tanintharyi Region will be upgraded
- A new domestic airport is proposed to build in a major trade hub, Muse border.
- Myanmar to upgrade the Tada-U International Airport in Mandalay Region with the cooperation of the Japanese giant Mitsubishi.
- The Surbung airport in Chin State will be operational by 2021.
- The DCA will conduct a field study on the construction of Hantharwady International Airport.
